

Biography

SALLY WANG LIANG

*VP of Business Development,
Head of Global Business Unit
PepLib*

SALLY WANG LIANG is a biopharma and health tech business executive and a multidisciplinary IP and regulatory lawyer, often working at the intersection of the U.S. and China health care industries. She is currently vice president of business development, heading the global business unit at PepLib, an innovative Chinese biotech at the forefront of peptide drug discovery. She also consults as a venture partner for VBI, a Hong Kong life sciences fund with more than 70 portfolio companies, and serves as general counsel of the U.S.-China Health Summit. Previously, Sally was CEO and co-founder of an international telemedicine company that bridges American and Chinese health care. She was also chief strategy officer and executive vice president of IP and regulatory at Click Therapeutics, a leading digital therapeutics company. As a legal practitioner, Sally practiced patent litigation and IP licensing at Fitzpatrick, Cella, Harper & Scinto LLP, and clerked for the Honorable Charles S. Haight at the Southern District of New York. She advised many of the world's largest pharmaceutical companies and top biotech firms on business strategy as a management consultant at Clarion Healthcare. She was a legal-policy fellow at the U.S. Food and Drug Administration and the U.S. Senate Health Education Labor Pension Committee Health Office. Sally received a B.A. in biology from Harvard College, a J.D. from Harvard Law School, and an M.P.H. from Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health.

