

Biography

JASON P. FIORILLO, ESQ.

Chief Legal Officer
Boston Dynamics

JASON FIORILLO serves as Boston Dynamics' chief legal officer. He is responsible for global oversight of the company's legal, compliance and product safety matters. His team ensures that Boston Dynamics negotiates beneficial commercial agreements, protects the company's intellectual property, complies with CFIUS and other regulatory requirements, and produces the safest possible products. His team is also responsible for general corporate governance, and for engaging with legislators and policymakers.

Prior to joining Boston Dynamics, Jason served as vice president for intellectual property and commercial matters at Analog Devices and as chief intellectual property counsel for its global technology subsidiaries, Linear Technology, Analog Devices Global and Analog Devices International. Earlier in his career, Jason was in private practice at law firms including Skadden Arps LLP, K&L Gates LLP and Testa, Hurwitz & Thibault LLP.

Jason received his B.S. in electrical engineering and computer science from MIT, and his J.D. from Stanford Law School. Jason is admitted to practice in California, Massachusetts, the U.S. Supreme Court, and the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.