

JAMES YEAGLE
Associate General Counsel
WHOOP

JAMES YEAGLE is an experienced counsel to consumer electronic companies, with a focus on developing, launching, and commercializing products at the intersection of consumer wellness and medical device. James led regulatory strategy and government relations efforts to obtain a De Novo grant for an OTC hearing aid and helped launch Part 820 quality systems. At WHOOP, James also oversees patent portfolio development, patent litigation and trademark matters.